Care Tips

Cool down all specimens as soon as possible. Make no cuts on fish, small game, birds, or bobcat-sized specimens. Wipe what blood you can off before storing and freezing. Don't bend bird feathers. Wrap all specimens in white bath towels and several layers of plastic bags. Don't leave a warm specimen wrapped up, let it cool off first. Wrapping up a warm specimen can accelerate spoilage.

BOYD'S TAXIDERMY

QUALITY FOR A FAIR PRICE

I have studied wildlife since I was a small child, observing and drawing. It takes a background in art to be a taxidermist. In addition to the Taxidermy, I have many prints of wildlife drawings to offer.
